TITLE 22
AGRICULTURE AND HORTICULTURE
CHAPTER 23
NURSERIES AND FLORISTS

22-2301. STATEMENT OF PURPOSE. The legislature and the Idaho nursery and florist industry find and declare that the propagation and raising of nursery and florist stock is an agricultural pursuit that should be regulated and assisted by the department of agriculture to provide a high quality and pest free product to the citizens of Idaho and Idaho's external trading partners. A nursery and floral services program shall be maintained within the department for the purpose of carrying out and enforcing the provisions of this chapter.

22-2302. DEFINITION OF TERMS. For the purpose of this chapter

(1) The singular and plural forms of any word or term in this chapter shall be interchangeable and equivalent within the meaning of this chapter.

(2) "Agent" means any person only soliciting orders in this state for the purchase or sale of nursery or florist stock for any principal who is not licensed under this chapter.

(3) "Dealer"

(a) Means any person who deals in, sells, handles, consigns, or accepts on consignment, imports, stores, displays or advertises nursery or florist stock which he has not grown.

22-2319. STOP SALE ORDER -- CONDEMNATION.

(1) The department may issue and enforce a written or printed "stop-sale" order to any dealer, agent, grower, or other person who is the owner or custodian of any nursery or florist stock when the department finds such nursery or florist stock is being offered for sale in violation of any of the provisions of this chapter.

(2) The "stop-sale" order shall be in effect until the provisions of this chapter have been complied with and said nursery or florist stock is released by order, in writing, of the department. If the nursery or florist stock under "stop-sale" order is determined after a reasonable period to be in such condition that neither treatment nor passage of time will enable it to meet the requirements of this chapter for sale, the department may order such nursery or florist stock destroyed.

22-2323. DISPOSITION AND USE OF MONEY RECEIVED. Fees collected shall be paid into the state treasury and credited to the agriculture inspection account created by section 22-104, Idaho Code, and such fees shall be used only to carry out the provisions of this chapter. Additionally, twenty-five dollars ($25.00) from each license fee collected under this chapter shall be credited to a special nursery research account. The state nursery and florist advisory committee shall approve the distribution of research funds to further research into nursery and floral production and pest control.

22-2324. VIOLATION.

(1) Any person who shall violate or fail to comply with any of the provisions of this chapter shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

22-2325. SEVERABILITY. The provisions of this act are hereby declared to be severable and if any provision of this act or the application of such provision to any person or circumstance is declared invalid for any reason, such declaration shall not affect the validity of remaining portions of this act.

General Plant Product Entry Requirements:

Nursery Stock Shipping Requirements: All incoming nursery stock must be accompanied by an inspection certificate signed by the regulatory agency of the state of origin. The list of the contents and origin of the items must be attached to the package or container. Additional certification may be required for some nursery stock originating in areas covered by a state or federal quarantine, as listed on the following pages.

Nursery stock: Includes all botanically classified plants or any part thereof, such as herbaceous plants, bulbs, sod, buds, corms, culms, roots, scions, grafts, cuttings, fruit pits, seeds of fruits, forest and ornamental trees and shrubs, berry plants, and all trees, shrubs, vines, and plants collected in the wild that are grown or kept for propagation or sale. The term does not include field and forage crops, seeds of grasses, cereal grains, vegetable crops and flowers, bulbs and tubers of vegetable crops, vegetables or fruit used for food or feed, cut trees or cut flowers unless stems or other portions thereof are intended for propagation. However, state law still requires nurseries, florists and landscapers with a physical presence in Idaho to be licensed. Idaho will honor nursery and florist license issued by states that accept our nursery and florist license.

Feed, Seed, Fertilizer, and Soil and Plant Amendments: All commercial feed, seed, fertilizer, and soil and plant amendments in bulk or packaged, offered for sale or distribution in Idaho must be properly labeled and registered or licensed with the Idaho State Department of Agriculture. For all unregistered products, please file a report with the Boise office listing the Product, Brand Name (if any), Manufacturer, Consignor, Consignee, Destination, and any pertinent label information.

Honey Bees: Non-resident beekeepers must obtain a permit from the Department before bringing bees into the State to an Idaho destination. A certificate of health must be obtained from the state of origin showing the absence of American foulbrood. Colonies without a health certificate should not be allowed to enter, unless prior arrangements for an inspection have been made. This does not apply to shipments of packaged bees.  - (c) States or portions of states listed in the area under quarantine may have counties that are not infested with Japanese beetle. Shipments of articles and commodities covered will be accepted from these non-infested counties if annual surveys are made in such counties and the results of such surveys are negative for Japanese beetle. A list of counties so approved will be maintained by the Director.
 - (d) The agricultural officials of other states may recommend a non-infested county be placed on the approved county list by writing for such approval and stating how the surveys were conducted giving the following information:

If a county was previously infested, give date of last infestation. The recommendation for approval of such counties will be evaluated by the Idaho State Department of Agriculture - The Division of Plant Industries. If heavy infestations occur in neighboring counties, approval may be denied. To be maintained on the approved list, each county must be reappraised every twelve (12) months. Shipments of articles and commodities covered from non-infested counties will only be allowed entry into Idaho if the non-infested county has been placed on the approved list prior to the arrival of the shipment in Idaho.

REQUIREMENTS FOR SHIPPING NURSERY STOCK FROM JAPANESE BEETLE INFESTED AREAS INTO IDAHO

- I. All nursery stock in growing media is prohibited entry into Idaho from the area under quarantine unless they have the required certification.
- II. Plants may be shipped from the area under quarantine into Idaho provided such shipments conform to one of the options below and are accompanied by a certificate issued by an authorized state agricultural official at origin. Note that not all protocols approved in the U.S. Domestic Japanese Beetle Harmonization Plan are acceptable for Idaho.

- III. Advance notification of regulated commodity shipment is required. Individual certificates shall bear the name and address of the shipper and consignee(s), as well as the inspection/certificate date and the signature of the state agricultural office. In the case of mail order shipments, a master list giving the name and full addresses of each consignee(s) and shipper sent to the Department monthly may be approved.
- IV. The certifying official shall mail or FAX a copy of the certificate or list to Chief, Bureau of Feeds and Plant Services, Plant Industry Division, Idaho State Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 790, Boise, Idaho 83701, FAX: (208) 334-2283.
- V. Certificates shall be issued only if the shipment conforms fully to item (1), (2), (3), or (4) below:
1. Production in an Approved Japanese Beetle Free Greenhouse/Screenhouse. All the following criteria apply:
- (a) All media must be sterilized and free of soil;
 - (b) All stock must be free of soil (bareroot) before planting into the approved medium;
 - (c) The potted plants must be maintained within the greenhouse/screenhouse during the entire adult flight period;
 - (d) During the adult flight period the greenhouse/screenhouse must be made secure so that adult Japanese beetles cannot gain entry;
 - (e) Security shall be documented by the appropriate phytosanitary officials of the origin state department of agriculture and must be specifically approved as a secure area. They shall be inspected by the same officials for the presence of all life stages of the Japanese beetle;
 - (f) The plants and their growing medium must be appropriately protected from subsequent infestation while being stored, packed and shipped;
 - (g) Certified greenhouse/screenhouse nursery stock may not be transported into or through any infested areas unless identity is preserved and adequate safeguards are applied to prevent possible infestation;
 - (h) Each greenhouse/screenhouse operation must be approved by the phytosanitary officials as having met and maintained the above criteria and issued an appropriate certificate bearing the following declaration: "The rooted plants (or crowns) were produced in an approved Japanese beetle-free greenhouse or screenhouse." The certificate accompanying the shipment must have the same statement as an additional declaration.
2. Application of an approved regulatory treatment. All treatments shall be performed under direct supervision of a phytosanitary official of the origin state department of agriculture or under a compliance agreement thereof. Treatments and procedures under a compliance agreement will be monitored closely throughout the season. State phytosanitary certificates listing and verifying the treatment used must be forwarded to ISDA via fax and must accompany the shipment. Note that not all treatments approved in the U.S. Domestic Japanese Beetle Harmonization Plan are acceptable for Idaho. The phytosanitary certificate shall bear the following additional declaration: "The rooted plants were treated to control Popillia japonica according to the criteria for shipment to Category 1 States as provided in the U.S. Domestic Japanese Beetle Harmonization Plan and Idaho Japanese Beetle Quarantine."

Section II, Page 26

- (a) Dip/injection Treatment(s) – Balled & Burlap not approved
- (b) Dip Treatment – Containers only in soil-free or artificial media. Dursban 4E at 2 pounds active ingredient per 100 gallons of water. The submersion time shall be a minimum of two minutes and until complete saturation occurs. Treatment should be applied against Japanese beetle larvae stages. Treatment must be applied between September 15 and April 15 in southern states and between September 1 and May 1 in the northern states as determined by the appropriate regulatory official. Growing media must be at least 50 degrees F. at the time of treatment and be of moderate moisture content (not too wet or not too dry) so that the pesticide solution will adequately penetrate the medium. Shipments may not take place until 10 days post treatment.

(c) Drench Treatments - Container Plants Only. Not approved for ornamental grasses or sedges. Potting media used must be sterile and soil-free, containers must be clean. Field potted plants are not eligible for certification using this protocol. This is a prophylactic treatment protocol targeting eggs and early first instar larvae. If the containers are exposed to a second flight season they must be retreated as follows:

(i) Imidacloprid (Marathon 60WP). Apply one-half (0.5) gram of active ingredient per gallon of water as a prophylactic treatment just prior to Japanese beetle adult flight season (June 1, or as otherwise determined by the state regulatory official). Apply tank mix as a drench to wet the entire surface of the potting media. A twenty-four (24) gallon tank mix should be enough to treat 120-140 one-gallon containers. Avoid over drenching so as not to waste active ingredient through leaching. During the adult flight season, plants must be retreated after sixteen (16) weeks if not shipped to assure adequate protection.

(ii) Bifenthrin (Talstar Nursery Flowable 7.9%). Mix at the rate of twenty (20) ounces per 100 gallons of water. Apply as a drench at approximately eight (8) ounces of tank mix per six (6) inches of container diameter.

(d) Media (Granule) Incorporation - Container Plants Only. All pesticides used for media incorporation must be mixed prior to potting and plants potted a minimum of thirty (30) days prior to shipment. Potting media used must be sterile and soil-free; containers must be clean. The granules must be incorporated into the media before potting. Field potted plants are not eligible for treatment. This treatment protocol targets eggs and early first instar larvae and allows for certification of plants that have been exposed to only one flight season after application. If the containers are to be exposed to a second flight season they must be re-potted with a granule incorporated mix or retreated using one of the approved drench treatments. Pesticides approved for media incorporation are:

(i) Imidacloprid (Marathon 1G). Mix at the rate of five (5) pounds per cubic yard of potting media.

(ii) Bifenthrin (Talstar Nursery Granular or Talstar T&O Granular (0.2)). Mix at the rate of 25 ppm or one-third (0.33) of a pound per cubic yard based on a potting media bulk density of 200.

(iii) Tefluthrin (Fireban 1.5 G). Mix at the rate of 25 ppm based on a potting media bulk density of 400.

(e) Methyl Bromide Fumigation. Nursery stock: methyl bromide fumigation at normal atmospheric pressure (NAP), chamber or tarpaulin. See the California Commodity Treatment Manual for authorized schedules. Material treated October through April must be shipped prior to beetle flight or be protected from re-infestation.

Section II, Page 27

During the adult flight period, all treated plants must be protected from re-infestation if they are held before shipment.

(f) Other treatment or protocol not described herein may be submitted for review and approval by the Director of the Idaho State Department of Agriculture. Applications must include information concerning the proposed chemical, application method, efficacy, EPA registration and labeling, and references.

- 3. Detection survey for origin certification. Japanese Beetle Harmonization Plan protocol not approved in Idaho. Alternative approved protocol: States listed in the area under quarantine may have counties that are not infested with Japanese beetle. Shipments of commodities covered may be accepted from these non-infested counties if annual surveys are made in such counties and adjacent counties, and the results of such surveys are negative for Japanese beetle. The shipping nursery must grow all of its own stock from seed, un-rooted cuttings or bare-root material. A list of counties so approved will be maintained by the Idaho State Department of Agriculture. Regulatory officials from a quarantined state or province may recommend a non-infested county be placed on the approved county list by writing for such approval and stating how surveys were conducted giving the following information:

- (a) Areas surveyed
- (b) How survey was carried out
- (c) Number of traps
- (d) Results of survey
- (e) History of survey

If a county was previously infested, give date of last infestation. If infestations occur in neighboring counties, approval may be denied. To be maintained on the approved list, each county must be re-approved every twelve (12) months. Shipments of commodities covered from non-infested counties will only be allowed entry into Idaho if the non-infested county has been placed on the approved list prior to the arrival of the shipment into Idaho. The certificate must have the following additional declaration: "The plants in this consignment were produced in (name of county), state of (name of state of origin) that is known to be free of Japanese beetle."

- 4) Privately owned house plants. Privately owned house plants (up to 25) obviously grown, or certified at the place of origin, as having been grown indoors without exposure to Japanese beetle may be allowed entry.

2001 SURVEY, NURSERY AND FIELD INSPECTION SUMMARY

APPLE MAGGOT (AM) (Rhagoletis pomonella Walsh) - In 2001, 180 traps were placed at 145 sites in seven counties (Boise, Bonner, Canyon, Gem, Owyhee, Payette, and Washington) in and around the commercial apple production areas of each county. No positive detections were made at any sites trapped within the AM free zone area in 2001. This zone is established by rules (IDAPA 02.06.23) under authority of Title 22 Chapter 20, Idaho Code, Quarantines. Sixty-two adults were caught at a sentinel site on native hawthorn, in Boise County and one was trapped in Washington County on native hawthorn, both sites are outside of the apple maggot AM free zone. All identifications are made through genitalia dissections performed by University of Idaho taxonomists at the WFBARR Entomological Museum in Moscow, Idaho under the direction of Dr. James D. Johnson. A quality control program was implemented this year whereby fake flies were placed in traps by supervisory personnel with directions that the trap be replaced and taken to the program supervisor. All orchards and trap sites were plotted this year using Geographic Information System (GIS) and Global Positioning System (GPS) technology. The historical trapping density and placement criterion will be re-evaluated this winter. An historical summary can be found at <http://www.agri.state.id.us/plants/feed.htm>

CEREAL LEAF BEETLE (CLB) (Oulema melanopus (Linnaeus)) – CLB was detected in Fremont and Clark counties for the first time in 2001. There were 75 sites surveyed in 15 counties. The larval parasite, Tetrastichus julis, was recovered from Twin Falls County in 2001. This is a new county record for the occurrence of Tetrastichus julis in Idaho. No recoveries of either larval or egg parasites were made from the other release sites in the state. Additional parasite releases were made in Boundary and Canyon counties. A field insectary for rearing CLB egg and larval parasites is being established in Kimberly, Idaho through cooperation with the University of Idaho and the Idaho State Department of Agriculture. A map showing Idaho counties positive for CLB is located on page 15.

WESTERN CHERRY FRUIT FLY (CFF) (Rhagoletis indifferens Curran) - In previous issues of

this annual report, the Western Cherry Fruit Fly was improperly listed as Rhagoletis cingulata (cherry fruit fly) which does not occur in Idaho. The Idaho State Department of Agriculture implements a trapping program and tracks degree-day accumulation calculations for the western cherry fruit fly. The California Department of Food and Agriculture requires this for compliance with their Western Cherry Fruit Fly Quarantine for states wishing to export fresh sweet cherries to, or through, California. Fruit flies were caught at one site in Canyon County this year on May 24, 2000. A degree-day model is also used to supplement the trapping program. The dates that the 1060 degree-day accumulation was met or exceeded over the past few years is summarized in the table below. Written notification that fly emergence was eminent was sent to all growers through the Idaho Cherry Commission on May 15, 2001. No cherry fruit fly larvae were detected during inspection activities at any of the packing sheds this year. The degree-day calculations are made from the Oregon State University, Department of Entomology degree-day computer model. Control applications are recommended on, or prior to, 1060 degree-day accumulations according to the publication, "Orchard Pest Management" as published by the Good Fruit Grower, Yakima, WA 1993.

EUROPEAN PINE SHOOT MOTH (EPSM) (Rhyacionia bouliana Denis & Schiffermuller) - In

2001, detection surveys were carried out only in areas of the state where this insect is not known to occur. Trap sites were selected at each inspector's discretion, based upon risk, accessibility and presence of suitable host material. There were 145 traps placed at 108 sites in 23 counties. Adult moth emergence can be expected around the first week of June. New positive sites were found in Bingham and Bonneville counties. This survey is performed to track

EPSM's movement within the state for compliance with California and Nevada quarantines. Twenty-six nurseries were trapped for compliance with the California EPSM quarantine, 336 visual inspections of nurseries were made for the presence of EPSM, and three nurseries were required to take corrective actions to control EPSM-infested stock. The EPSM is a pest of most Pinus sp. In Idaho, it is most commonly found on Mugo pine in ornamental situations. A map showing Idaho counties positive for EPSM is located on page 16.

GYPSY MOTH (GM) (Lymantria dispar (Linnaeus)) - Detection Trapping - In 2001, the cooperating agencies in the Idaho gypsy moth detection program placed 5,346 detection traps throughout the state (Table 1). Table 2 shows trap placement by county. Pheromone-baited traps were placed on a grid basis at a density of four traps per square mile. Traps were placed throughout the state in cities, towns, surrounding urban areas and rural communities, in accordance with a predetermined rotation schedule. Cities and communities where 20 or more move-ins occur are trapped irrespective of their place in the schedule. A move-in is defined as an individual or family moving to Idaho from a state that is generally infested with gypsy moths. This information is derived from vehicle registration information supplied on a monthly basis by the Idaho Department of Transportation. Most infestations are initiated when an egg mass or other life stage of the gypsy moth arrives on an outdoor household article brought by someone moving into the area. Between May 2000 and April 2001, there were 4765 move-ins to the state, a 6.4% decrease over the previous year. Campgrounds, tourist attractions, and other high-risk locations were also trapped.

Section II, Page 30

Two male gypsy moths were caught in detection traps in 2001. One trap was located west of Blanchard in Bonner County. A second moth was caught near Thornton in Madison County. We were unable to attribute either moth to a specific move-in; however, there are a large number of RVs in the area surrounding the Blanchard site. Delimitation traps will be placed around both sites in the 2002 trapping season.

Delimitation Trapping – No delimitation traps were placed in Idaho in 2001.

Mass Trapping – No mass trapping was done in Idaho in 2001.

Nursery Inspections – 364 nurseries were inspected for the presence of the Gypsy Moth.

The Idaho Department of Lands administers this trapping program. A more detailed report and historical information may be obtained by contacting Ms. Gretchen Casey or Mr. Ladd Livingston, Idaho Department of Lands, 3780 Industrial Ave. South, Coeur d'Alene, Idaho 83815, or phone (208) 769-1525.

GRASSHOPPER / MORMON CRICKETS – This program is jointly administered by the Idaho State Department of Agriculture (ISDA) and the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, Plant Protection and Quarantine Office (USDA). The USDA has responsibility on federal lands and the ISDA has responsibility for state and private lands. The ISDA is required to control grasshoppers and Mormon crickets under the Plant Pest Control and Research Commission Act, Section 22-2108, Title 22, Chapter 21, Idaho Code.

PLANNING - Two organizations, the Committee for Idaho's High Desert and the Idaho Watersheds Project, in addition to a private citizen, Dr. Tom Cade, filed suit against the Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and USDA in Federal Court on June 16, 2000, to block action by the federal agencies in the grasshopper program. The suit was settled late in 2000. Constraints placed on the program by this settlement limited federal treatment options to the extent that very little planning was necessary for treatments in 2001. USDA did not conduct public meetings and did not revise environmental documentation. The USDA bought a supply of 5 percent carbaryl grasshopper bait, the only treatment allowed under the settlement, and stockpiled it in Twin Falls. Fortunately, survey data from previous years did not indicate a trend toward increasing grasshopper populations. Because of the legal constraints, grasshopper population trends, and areas in which BLM had declared out of bounds for treatment in the Lower Snake River District, USDA cut back on survey staff and based the temporary survey staff in Twin Falls, Mountain Home and Weiser.

ADMINISTRATIVE – Both BLM funding and USDA contingency funding were available throughout the season. Therefore, lack of funding for the program did not cause a delay this year as had been the case in previous years. Funding for the Idaho State Department of Agriculture is under authorization of the State Board of Examiners, as required under the Plant Pest Control and Research Commission Act, Section 22-2108, Title 22, Chapter 21, Idaho Code.

SURVEY – In 2000, grasshopper and Mormon cricket population levels did not reach the magnitude anticipated by the public nor most authorities and there were not expectations for widespread, high grasshopper populations in 2001.

High grasshopper populations in Camas and Valley Counties in 2000 led to concern about the prospects in those locales for 2001. But private landowners had successfully treated substantial acreage with Malathion in Camas County in 2000, and this apparently reduced the 2001 population. However, extremely high populations of Camnula pellucida, up to 5,000 per square yard, were present in Valley County hatching beds. Bands of nymphs, numbering into the hundreds per yard, created slick roads and public alarm.

Localized high densities of grasshoppers were observed at some locations in southern Idaho, but widespread infestations did not occur on public rangeland. Most grasshopper complaints came from areas where the insects were in the crops or on other private property, especially the corners of pivot irrigation fields. Investigation of some cases revealed that grasshoppers had hatched well out into the crop rather than in rangeland.

Mormon crickets were present in high numbers in rangeland in Elmore, Ada, and Valley Counties. Smaller populations were present in Madison County, associated with Conservation Reserve Program plantings.

Adult grasshopper surveys conducted in the Fall of 2001 resulted in estimates that 125,000 acres of Bureau of Land Management rangeland were infested at economic levels.

TREATMENTS – The U.S. Department of Agriculture treated 420 acres of federal rangeland in Cassia County. All treatments were with 5 percent carbaryl bait at a rate of 10 pounds/acre. Treatments were carried out near Raft River and Oakley. Treatments were applied by air with the skip-swath [Reduced Agent Area Treatments (RAATs)] method mandated by the court settlement mentioned above. In both cases the predominate species was Camnula pellucida.

The Idaho State Department of Agriculture purchased grasshopper bait for distribution to landowners. The ISDA, USDA and University of Idaho Cooperative Extension Service worked together to distribute the bait to farmers and ranchers in areas where there were heavy grasshopper infestations on private land or on public lands which did not qualify for treatment under the federal program. This cooperative program provided approximately 80,800 pounds of 5 percent carbaryl bait to 311 private landowners in 23 counties for application to their range, pasturelands or wastelands. The state provides the bait and application equipment, the landowner provides the labor to apply it. Bait application costs at the 10 pounds per acre rate ran from $7.00 to $8.00 per acre plus equipment and labor costs. About 51 percent of the total amount of bait distributed went to Valley County. In addition, private landowners in Valley County treated approximately 28,000 acres with Dimilin2L™, at 1 ounce of active ingredient per acre, using skip-swath technology (RAAT's). They achieved extremely good success with their cooperative program, which was not encumbered with the requirements placed on federal programs. Very few live grasshoppers were found at two weeks post-treatment. This Dimilin 2L™ application was made on a 50/50 cost-share between the private landowners and the state. The chemical and application cost averaged $2.60 per acre for the Valley County program. In early August an additional 2,300 acres was treated in Bingham County with malathion, at a rate of 8 ounces per acre, in an Ultra Low Volume treatment, at cost of $3.50 per acre. This treatment was made on a 50/50 cost-share basis with the landowner.

PREDICTIONS - The 2001 Fall surveys do not indicate a high likelihood of extensive grasshopper infestations in Idaho during 2002. Localized outbreaks at high density may be expected in areas that are traditionally subject to attack. Year 2002 rangeland grasshopper hazard maps for the Western U.S. and are on page 17 and 18.

Mormon crickets may pose a significant risk of appearing in high densities in Southwest Idaho. In most locales they would likely not pose a threat to crops, but could be a significant nuisance. On rangeland they would not be expected to diminish valuable forage, but could consume quantities of weeds. There are bands of Mormon crickets that could pose a problem by invading metropolitan Boise.

In 2002 and beyond, there may be need for grasshopper control to protect re-vegetation plantings on large acreages of public lands burned during the 2000 fire season.

The FY 2002 Agricultural Appropriation may result in some funds for Idaho. However, the grasshopper program will have to compete with other emerging plant pest programs for appropriated funds and with other emergency programs for contingency funds to support survey and control operations.

If future programs contain protective measures equal to those invoked in the court settlement mentioned above, or proposed in the 2000 Bureau of Land Management, which was the target of the lawsuit, the efficacy of grasshopper control will be significantly diminished, perhaps to the point of fruitlessness. If grasshopper programs are permitted to use bait as the only treatment option, the cost and logistical problems will mandate a triage approach that will allow only the most horrific infestations to be addressed.

The success of the plaintiffs with their 2000 lawsuit to stop grasshopper treatments with threats of temporary restraining orders, will only encourage them to continue their efforts to delay, diminish and destroy our ability to effectively protect crops from grasshoppers and Mormon crickets. The U. S. Department of Agriculture is concerned that it will prevent the continuation of the USDA grasshopper management program in Idaho. This may limit grasshopper control programs to those conducted by private or other non-federal entities.

USDA is preparing a new Environmental Impact Statement, which should reduce the likelihood that the U.S. Attorney's Office will be unable to defend our programs against lawsuits. Options suggested by the plaintiffs, and others with similar agendas, will continue to be proposed. These include compensating farmers for losses caused by grasshoppers and significant revision of grazing practices on public lands.

This report was prepared by Mr. Dave McNeal and Mr. Rob McChesney, USDA-APHIS-PPQ, 9134 W. Blackeagle Drive, Boise, Idaho 83709, or phone (208) 378-5797. The state of Idaho information was provided by Michael E. Cooper, Idaho State Department of Agriculture, or phone (208) 332-8620.

JAPANESE BEETLE (Popillia japonica Newman) – 193 traps were placed at 193 sites in 41 counties and 336 visual inspections of nursery premises were performed. All traps and visual inspections were found negative. Japanese beetle quarantines are maintained and vigorously enforced by California, Idaho, Oregon, Utah and Washington. This beetle and its larval form are known to infest over 400 horticultural and ornamental plants, including sod. Establishment of the beetle in Idaho could seriously affect exports to the above-listed states and British Columbia.

The beetle is known to infest most states east of the Mississippi River. Eastern Idaho is at increased risk for a possible Japanese beetle infestation, due to the amount of nursery stock from infested eastern states being allowed into the Jackson, Wyoming area. Wyoming maintains no Japanese beetle quarantine or surveillance program, so the likelihood of an infestation in the landscaped areas in and around Jackson could be very high.

KARNAL BUNT (Tilletia indica) – There were 41 samples processed from 17 counties and entered into the National Agricultural Pest Information System (NAPIS) system. All of the samples were collected and analyzed according to the 2001 National Karnal Bunt Monitoring Plan. All samples were negative for Karnal bunt. A complete listing of all survey samples taken are listed below:

LEEK MOTH (Acrolepiopsis assectella) – The Leek moth is not known to occur in the continental U.S., but was found in Ontario, Canada in 2000 and has been in Hawaii for many years. The Leek moth is a recognized pest of onions and leeks in Europe and Japan. It was first recorded in Hawaii in 1939 on the island of Oahu. The larvae are highly specialized to feed on the leaves of various plants belonging to the genus Allium. The larvae prefer younger leaves (0-7 days), but will consume leaves up to two months old. The larvae tunnel in and chew perforations on young leaves which eventually become deformed older leaves. Occasionally, larvae may attack reproductive parts of the host plant but usually avoid the flowers. The flowers contain a saponin compound that inhibits the growth of the leek moth larva. Sixteen traps were placed at onion seed production fields in Canyon, Jerome and Twins Falls counties. All results were negative. A more intensive survey is planned for 2002 Further information on the biology of this pest can be found at the following Internet Websites:

PLUM POX VIRUS (PPV) - Idaho participated for a second year in a nationwide survey for the plum pox virus. Plum Pox is a viral disease that affects nearly all Prunus species causing symptoms such as misshapen fruit, ringspots on leaves and fruit, and decreased yield. It is spread by aphids and also by grafting. The possibility of spread by seed is still unclear.

The disease was discovered in the U.S. in 1999 on some peaches in a packing shed in Pennsylvania. The disease was also discovered in Canada in the summer of 2000. Immediately after the discovery of the disease in the U.S., the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) began efforts to quarantine and eliminate it. Also the USDA initiated a national survey to ascertain the extent of the infection.

In the spring of 2000, Idaho participated in the nationwide plum pox survey. We surveyed 5 orchards, 27 nurseries and 4 private homes for a total of 800 samples. All samples from within Idaho were negative for the virus. Samples from all states that participated in the 2000 annual survey, except for Pennsylvania, were negative for the virus.

This year, we concentrated our survey efforts on established orchards to eliminate the possibility that any of the older trees were harboring the virus. We tested 775 samples from orchards in Canyon, Clearwater, Gem, Idaho, Lewis, Nez Perce, Payette and Twin Falls counties. We also tested 11 samples from one nursery in Boundary County where ornamental Prunus species are propagated. All testing was done according to the protocols established by USDA.

All samples consisted of 8 leaves chosen at random, and bulked. Leaves were ground and the extract was checked for the virus, using an antiserum specific for the virus. All samples from Idaho were negative for the virus. Again, all other states participating in the survey, except for Pennsylvania, had no signs of the virus.

The Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture is continuing their survey and eradication efforts. To date the total acreage lost to the plum pox virus stands at 884 acres. All positive samples have been from orchards. No positive samples have been recovered from homeowners or nurseries. From this evidence, scientists believe that the infection came to Pennsylvania on orchard stock and spread to a limited area via aphid transmission. Scientists are still unclear however, on the initial point of infection.

The results of the 2001 Canadian survey show positive samples from Ontario province only. No infections were found in Nova Scotia, British Columbia or Quebec. Eradication efforts are under way in Ontario, and movement of Prunus from quarantine zones is still prohibited. Canadian officials believe that they have traced the source of their infection to a nursery in Ontario.

REGULATORY INCIDENTS:

HONEY BEES – Eleven illegal apiary sites belonging to a California beekeeper were found in Teton County. These bees had been imported into the state in violation of the Idaho Bee Inspection Law, Title 22, Chapter 25, Idaho Code. They were un-registered and had no health certificate as is required. After several unsuccessful attempts to locate the owner, the bees were inspected and found to be infested with American foulbrood, a bacterial disease of honeybees. The 499 colonies were subsequently seized by the Idaho State Department of Agriculture; 176 colonies were ordered destroyed due to heavy American foulbrood infection. The disease confirmation was made by the USDA – ARS Bee Research Laboratory in Beltsville, Maryland. At least one of the samples submitted exhibited resistance to the antibiotic Terramycin, which is commonly used as a control measure.

DISEASES AND PESTS FOUND DURING 2001 FIELD INSPECTIONS FOR EXPORT CERTIFICATION

Weather conditions for the 2001 growing season were drier than in past years. This may have contributed to fewer diseases being observed during active-growth field inspections. Limited supplies of irrigation water late in the growing season may also have contributed to drier than normal field conditions resulting in less disease expression in the field.

Alfalfa seed: A total of 2,446.2 acres were submitted for inspection. Canadian Thistle (Cirsium arvense) was observed in 283 acres. No Alfalfa mosaic virus, Verticillium albo-atrum, Clavibacter michiganensis pv. insidiosus, Xanthomonas campestris pv. alfalfae, Ditylenchus dipsaci, Hieracium pilosella, Orobanche spp., or Striga spp. were found.

The field disease report is compiled by Curt Thornburg, Program Manager, Plant Industries, Boise, (208) 332-8620 and Garry West, Program Manager, Plant Industries, Twin Falls, or phone (208) 736-2195.

The pathology lab received 1,132 samples this year and ran 3,286 tests on the samples. Our overall turnaround time was 20.42 days, although this number varied greatly among the different types of samples we received. See the table on page 14 for a complete listing of sample processed this year.

In the bean serology program, we received 413 samples for testing from 6 different states and 4 foreign countries. We found one lot of seed positive for Pseudomonas syringae pv. phaseolicola in Idaho illegally, and 2 from Canada. We also had 2 lots of bean seed from Canada that were positive for Colletotrichum lindemuthianum (bean anthracnose). We found Pseudomonas syringae pv. syringae in an infected lot from the Netherlands.

The plant pathology lab now has a PCF capability.

We ran several tests on various other seed products. We looked for Eschericia coli strain 0157 and Salmonella spp. in sprouting broccoli, alfalfa and radish. We also tested wheat, barley and alfalfa for the presence of various smut fungi, including finding Tilletia fusca on alfalfa, and T. controversa on barley. Several lots of alfalfa and one of red clover tested positive for bacterial wilt caused by Clavibacter michiganense pv. insidiosum.

The lab participated in the 2nd national survey for the Plum Pox virus (see the PPV section above). Idaho was free from the pathogen in both years. We also conducted our 5th year of the national Karnal Bunt survey (Tilletia indica) on wheat. As in all past years, Idaho is considered free from this pathogen, as well.

In the various samples received from our field inspectors, we isolated one fungus new to Idaho: Gloecephalus hemerocallis, causing a leafspot on daylilly. Although this fungus was new to Idaho, it is believed to be widespread in the U.S., and of very little concern. We also found several fields of corn infected with either the High Plains virus, or Wheat streak mosaic virus, or both. This is of concern for our export market in Australia. We did conduct one grow out test in corn seed for Wheat streak mosaic virus, and found the sample was clean. And finally, we found a sample of squash positive for a Potyvirus, although we could not identify the virus to species. This is of concern since it is not the first time we have seen virus-infected cucurbits in Idaho, and we will pursue this further.

The Plant Pathology Laboratory Report was compiled by Ms. Liz Vavricka, principal microbiologist, Boise, ID, or phone (208) 332-8640.

EXPORT CERTIFICATION FOR THE 2001 CALENDAR YEAR
