LOCAL SOURCES FOR EXPORT ASSISTANCE

Remember that you are not alone. In Idaho, there is a vast array of resources both domestically and in key international markets to assist you with your export needs. As many new and successful exporters have discovered, exporting can be an important source of growth, but sometimes challenging. Idaho exporters strengthen their local communities by creating jobs and new opportunities for Idaho workers. This in turn contributes to the economic growth of the United States as a whole.

In this guide, you will find valuable information on local, state and federal government and business resources for export assistance describing services and listing local contacts. Idaho has international trade offices in Asia, China and Mexico with in-country specialists that can assist with efforts in those regions.

There is a section on various resources for export information to help you research and select potential overseas markets, understand trade regulations affecting U.S. exports, locate federal government information resources, and other valuable links to help you in developing your export plan. If you need specific local business contacts for various services related to your export needs, go to the “Business Contacts” section in this guide.

The State of Idaho Departments of Agriculture and Commerce have international trade specialists to help you with your export needs and encourage you to utilize the resources listed in this guide to achieve your exporting goals.

IDAHO STATE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE (ISDA) & DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE (IDC)

The International Business Team from the Idaho Department of Commerce (IDC) and the Market Development Division at the Idaho State Department of Agriculture (ISDA) provide export promotion assistance to Idaho businesses interested in international trade. Services include:

Export Counseling

Our offices work one-on-one with Idaho companies to assist in determining export potential, analyzing target markets, providing market research, defining market entry strategies, answering questions about payment terms, financing, logistics, shipping, and a variety of other export-related topics. We maintain relationships with export resources in selected countries, and can refer you to the best contacts for your exporting needs.

Trade Missions

Trade missions are sales trips to foreign countries and provide Idaho companies with an unparalleled opportunity to pursue potential business partnerships, make contacts, and open doors in foreign markets. Trade missions are extremely targeted and each Idaho company receives a customized itinerary with pre-qualified contacts specifically designed to meet their individual business goals. Trade missions are often led by the Governor or Lt. Governor, but may also be led by a Director or other state staff. Governor led missions provide Idaho companies with higher-level meetings in-country that companies often cannot achieve on their own.

International Buying Delegations

IDC and ISDA pre-qualify delegations of international buyers through an intensive screening process to ensure reputable, capable, and ready-to-buy prospects. Delegations travel throughout Idaho to visit companies who are directly matched to the interests of foreign buyers. Inbound groups help your company begin building relationships with buyers without the expense of international travel, and allow you to collect feedback on the viability of your product or service directly from buyers in your sector or industry.

Export Education

Our agencies, in collaboration with service providers and private and public entities, provide export education through workshops, webinars, and seminars designed for both new-to-export companies as well as those with years of international experience. Regardless of your export question, we will tap you into our vast network of resources to find the answers you need.

Market Research

IDC and ISDA have access to some of the largest market research databases, such as Euromonitor International and USA Trade Online, to help develop your company's strategic exporting efforts. Our staff can run customized statistical reports for your products and markets of interest to better understand trade flows, support export market development, opportunity analysis, and guide market entrance and expansion strategies.

Trade Policy

Our agencies help expand market access for Idaho products by working to remove trade barriers that restrict or prohibit the movement of Idaho products into foreign markets. We collaborate with state and federal officials, foreign governments, and trade organizations on trade issue resolution, work to ensure that issues of particular importance to Idaho are addressed in bilateral and multilateral trade negotiations, and host technical teams when needed to establish export protocols. ISDA also updates the Idaho Agriculture Trade Issues Report each year, a publication that reports on trade issues affecting agricultural products.

Grant Opportunities

IDC and ISDA receive funding from federal agencies to provide competitive grants to Idaho companies for a variety of export related activity. For a list of current opportunities, visit www.commerce.idaho.gov/incentives-and-financing/grants or <https://agri.idaho.gov/main/marketing/financial-assistance/>.

IDAHO'S OVERSEAS TRADE OFFICES

Idaho supports contractual full-time offices for Taiwan and Southeast Asia, China, and Mexico, which are strategically located in key export regions throughout the world. As residents of the respective trade office countries and territories, our trade representatives are experts on trade opportunities and regulations and have a wealth of contacts in their respective regions. Our trade office managers are here to guide you through the steps of expanding into foreign markets. Idaho's International Trade Offices:

- Cultivate relationships with current and potential customers for Idaho products and services
- Conduct buyer pre-qualification and due diligence
- Disseminate trade leads and requests for Idaho products from foreign customers
- Travel to Idaho each year to conduct one-on-one consultations with Idaho companies
- Arrange key in-country meetings with buyers, business partners, and government officials for Idaho companies visiting the market
- Provide market information and research
- Maintain relationships with government agencies for additional on- the-ground support
- Coordinate Idaho "pavilions" with Idaho exhibitors at targeted industry trade shows
- Provide translation services on product literature and promotional material (nominal fees may apply depending on length of text)

SMALL BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION (SBA)

The Small Business Administration (SBA) can design individual programs to meet your specific needs. International services provided by the SBA include:

Counseling and training

- U.S. Export Assistance Centers (USEACs) help you explore the process of exporting at centers across the country. Each one is staffed by professionals from public and private organizations with experience in export assistance for small- and medium-sized businesses
- Small Business Development Centers (SBDCs) are hosted by leading universities and state economic development agencies, and are partially funded through a partnership with SBA. Their advisors offer free business consulting and low-cost training services
- International Trade Hotline, the SBA's Office of International Trade, publicizes the small business benefits of U.S. trade agreements and helps protect the rights of small businesses under these agreements. Contact the toll-free trade hotline at 1-855-722-4877

Find international buyers

- State Trade Expansion Program (STEP) provides financial awards to state and territory governments to help small businesses with exporting

Export finance programs

- Export Express Loans can directly underwrite a loan without getting prior approval from the SBA, which allows you to get capital quickly. Loans are typically approved within 36 hours, and can be up to $500,000
- Export Working Capital Loans allow small business owners to apply for loans in advance of finalizing an export sale or contract, giving exporters great flexibility in negotiating export payment terms. These loans can be up to $5 million, and the turnaround time is usually five to 10 business days.
- International Trade Loans help small businesses enter international markets and make investments to compete with other importers. These loans offer a combination of fixed asset, working capital financing, and debt refinancing with the SBA's maximum guaranty of 90 percent on the total loan amount. The maximum loan is $5 million in total financing.
